

College Theatre Announces Fall Production Plans

The College Theatre has selected Arsenic and Old Lace for its fall production. This howling comedy, a Broadway hit for three years, promises to be a highly entertaining play, and will be presented here November 4th, at 8:30 in Russell Auditorium.

The play is under the direction of Miss Edna West. The cast will be composed of college students, town people, college faculty and naval personnel.

The cast includes Jane Sparks, Jeanne Peterson, Mr. Max Noah, Storekeeper 3-c W. J. Kitchen, Henry Porterfield, Lt. (j.g.) Jack Caum, Storekeeper 3-c Kenneth Swope.

Storekeeper 3-c Herbert Craig, Storekeeper 3-c John Campo, Captain H. C. Cole, Dr. Charles Smith, Elizabeth Davis, Storekeeper 3-c C. K. Crandall.

Other members of the cast will be announced later.

Members of the production staff are as follows: Jeanne McGill, Evelyn Pope, Flo Finney, Charmaine Osborn, Marian Stewart, Elizabeth Powell, Margaret McCann, Maybess Murphy, Rachel Jones, and Bettye Collins.

Arsenic and Old Lace is a benefit production for the Stage Door Canteen. All gate receipts will be sent to the American Theatre Wing War Service for the support of Stage Door Canteens throughout this country. Last year College Theatre was one of the first groups in this section to contribute to the organization.

SMITH ELECTED HEAD OF HONOR COMMITTEE

In a student body election held Wednesday, Louise Smith defeated Betty Boyd for the office of Chairman of Honor Committee. Louise Smith, a senior, was the treasurer for the YWCA for the 1943-4. She received 127 votes. Betty Boyd, a sophomore, is the Corresponding Secretary for CGA this year. Betty received 116 votes.

GSCW ANNUAL HIKE MARKS 38th ANNIVERSARY

The thirty-eighth annual hike was held on Tuesday afternoon. Following the custom that was instituted in 1905, the annual hike has been held each year without interruption.

Now grown to be one of the oldest college traditions in the state of Georgia, the annual hike is held each fall by the local college.

Leaving the main campus about two p.m., the entire student body hiked through the main business section of town and across Old Capitol bridge to Treanor's Meadow, located on the east bank of the Oconee river opposite the city of Milledgeville.

Then the students participated in games and sports during the afternoon. Highlighting afternoon's activities was the soft ball game between the faculty and the senior class, with the faculty coming out on the short end of the 25 to 18 score.

Fourteen Chosen For Who's Who

British Tennis Stars To Appear In Exhibition Matches Thursday

Mary Hardwick and Dorothy Round Little, two of Great Britain's top-ranking tennis stars will conduct a tennis clinic and will meet student champions in an exhibition match here Thursday.

Misses Hardwick and Little are making a tour of leading colleges and universities in America. It is sponsored by the Quartermaster Corp of the U. S. Army. Other organizations assisting in sponsoring their appearance are the American Lawn Tennis Association, Wilson Sporting Goods Company, and McCormick and Company.

Afternoon classes will be cancelled in order that the entire student body will have the opportunity of watching the different matches. Officers and

PETITIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED

NOTICE FRESHMEN!

Petitions will be accepted from Monday, October 18, until Monday, October 25. Each petition must be signed by fifteen members of your class. These officers will be the freshmen leaders. Petitions are turned in to Faye Hancock, President of CGA.

MARY HARDWICK and Dorothy Round Little, two of Great Britain's tennis great, will be seen here next Thursday personnel of the U. S. Naval Training School, located at the college, are being invited to attend.

Miss Hardwick, a native of London, has not been defeated by a British player since 1937. She made her professional debut in this country in 1941 when she played against Alice Marble at Madison Square Garden. In private life she is the wife of Charles E. Hare, a corporal in the U.S. Army.

Miss Little, who was born at Dudley, Worcestershire, England, began playing tennis when she was 14 years old and entered her first tournament two years later. By 1933 she reached the finals of the Women's Championship at Wimbledon, but was defeated by Helen Wills Moody. However, she was the first player in eight years to win a set from the American star. The following year, 1934, she won at Wimbledon over Helen Hull Jacobs, and was proclaimed Women's Champion of the World. She joined the professional ranks in 1941.

Spooks To Flit Hallowe'en Eve

"Did you ever think when the spooks go by
"That some of these days you're going to die?"

When the spooks of Hallowe'en go by, Y will be bewitching the Jessie again this year with their annual Y Hallowe'en party, which will be held in the gym.

The party will be filled with all the horrors that accompany the eve of October 31. The ever-spookish Chamber of Horrors will be one of the hair-raising features—then comes the booths of the mystic fortune tells—and the one and only apple bob. The ethereal atmosphere will be emphasized by the decorations filling the House of Spooks or just plain gym to you.

The plans and publicity of the party are being arranged by a committee from the YWCA. Virginia Olsen heads this group; and working with her are Jane Harrell and Henri Floyd. Games and recreations for the night are being planned for a class project by five Physical Education majors.

"When the witches begin their screamin', and the owls start that hootin'," Virginia states, "that's the time for all good Jessies to come to the gym for fun by hauntin' the spooks."

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Wednesday night. Louise Thrash, president, introduced the faculty and new officers.

GROUP COMPOSED OF ONE JUNIOR, AND 13 SENIORS

One junior and thirteen seniors were selected to be GSCW's members of Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities in the annual faculty-student poll held last Wednesday.

The students selected are: Martha Duke, Chairman of Judiciary, and only junior to be elected; Faye Hancock, president of CGA; Florence Hooten; Mary Kennedy, president of Y; Jeanne Peterson, editor of the Spectrum; Hilda Pope, secretary of IRC; Doris Proctor, vice-president of the History Club; Frances Ridgeway, president of the senior class; Louise Smith, Chairman of Honor Committee.

Jane Sparks, editor of the Corinthian and Grand Director of Alpha Psi Omega, who was chosen last year and automatically remains on the list; Louise Thrash, senior representative to student council and vice-president of the Home Economics Club; Lottie Wallace, recording secretary of CGA; Jewell Willie, Colonnade editor; and Margaret Wilson, president of Recreation Association.

CODE PASSED: RULES CHANGED

The Senior Code was approved at the meeting of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee on Friday afternoon, Frankie Ridgeway, president of senior class, has announced. The code went into effect immediately as members of the class signed it.

At the Student-Faculty Relations Committee meeting Friday, also, changes in existing regulations were approved. They are:

Students may wear shorts on back campus when participating in sports on Sunday; the college pool will be open for swimming on Sunday afternoons, and students, who have parental permission, may attend matinee movies on Sunday afternoon, provided they return to the campus before six o'clock.

The opening of the pool will be given a four weeks trial to determine whether demand will warrant continuing the practice for the rest of the year.

Details have not been sufficiently worked out to put the regulations governing Sunday movies into effect immediately, but as soon as arrangements are made an announcement will be made from the office of the Dean of Women.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Geography Club held its regular meeting on Saturday in the nature of a field trip to Big Gully. Sandwiches and drinks were served.

Pittard, Outland To Be Featured On Appreciation Hour Program

Members of the GSCW faculty of music will present the two following Appreciation Hour programs. Miss Lois Catharine Pittard, Instructor in Piano, will give a piano recital tomorrow night. Mr. Lloyd Outland, Director of Instrumental Music, will be featured in a violin recital Wednesday, October 27.

Extended School Program Held

A convention of the directors and supervisors of the Extended School Programs was held on the campus October 11 through 13. Representatives from the State Department of Education, and the Federal Works Agency convened with representatives from nine Georgia counties to discuss the problems confronting the state program.

Miss Pittard has studied extensively. She had her early training with Joseph Maerz at Wesleyan Conservatory of Music in Macon, Ga., where she also received her B.M. degree. Later, she attended the Julliard School of Music, and became a pupil of Sascha Gordonitzki. She received her M.M. from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago in 1942, where she studied with Kurt Wanieck.

The following program will be played Wednesday night: Gavotte and Musette, D'Albert; Prelude, Franck; Sonata in B (Continued on Page Four)

Music And The War Effort

Music is helping win the war and will be a vital factor in helping to win the peace. More individuals are listening to music and taking part in singing and instrumental organizations in the United States than any other time in its history. Concert Associations in cities and towns all over the country have oversold their memberships. Radio stations use a greater percentage of their time for music than for any other type of program. The Army and Navy are utilizing music in singing and in bands as a morale builder as well as for entertainment. The nation has found out that a singing country is a winning one. Is GSCW doing her part?

The Fine Arts Department in cooperation with the Student Government is employing every agency possible to give opportunity to the students of GSCW, GMC, and the Naval Training School, as well as the citizens of Milledgeville to see and hear the best in music and as often as possible to take part themselves. The Milledgeville Concert Association has a very small budget to work from, but in spite of that have been able to offer three and four of the outstanding artists every year.

There are many talented people within the state of Georgia who play and sing in their own communities, but seldom are heard in any other city such as Milledgeville. In order that we may take advantage of this talent, the Fine Arts Department and CGA sponsor an Appreciation Hour every Wednesday night from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock. There is no charge for these programs.

Many students do not have access to a radio on Sunday afternoon to hear the fine concerts played by the New York Philharmonic and NBC Symphony Orchestras. A radio has been provided for this purpose so that every student, WAVE or soldier may visit Russell Auditorium on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and listen to the best music ever composed by the great masters. Are we making the most of these opportunities?

The Cecilia Singers is composed of girls from GSCW and is open to any girl in school through try-outs. For those who wish to play an instrument, the college band and orchestra offer the opportunity.

GSCW needs more singing on its campus, in chapel, in group gatherings, and as individuals. Let us all sing so that the hope, confidence, praise, pride, devotion, and the fighting spirit which will win victory for freedom and liberty may become a part of your every day life.

The World This Week

By DOT MANN

This column is written and compiled by members of the International Relations club.

Italy recently declared war against its former ally, Germany, and America, Great Britain, and Russia have recognized the Royal Italian government and accepted Italy as a co-belligerent.

Portugal seems to be preparing to join the Allies now that Germany is too busy to notice. Italy is now on the Allies' side, and Spain is supposedly neutral. The fact that Japan forcibly occupied Portuguese Timor in the Pacific is a good reason for her joining Japan's enemies.

India is experiencing another famine. Japanese capture of Burma's rice bowl made be added to the usual causes: 1. medieval agricultural methods; 2. population increasing more rapidly than wealth and education; 3. governmental failure to act.

The globe-circling senators, Chandler, Mead, Russell, Lodge, and Brewster, made a report in last week's secret session of the Senate. They have made the plea that, 1. the United States retain foreign air bases after the war; 2. use Siberian air bases to attack Japan; 3. the United States is furnishing too large a share of oil for the fighting of the war. The last arguments have been answered, 1. Siberian bases at present would be impractical; 2. that it's no longer a question of whose oil is used, but whose oil is nearest, and can be transported; 3. best to fill a need. However, discussion on both sides continues.

Our nation is doing something. James Landis, Economic Operations Director of the Middle East, turned up in Cairo. The United States government has begun negotiations to operate oil concerns in Saudi Arabia. Representatives from Palestine are here, ostensibly to learn something about immigration. News that the United States is trying to buy a piece of Arabia's fabulous oil resources has also leaked out. If this is true, this is the first time our government has embarked upon a career as a speculative oil magnate on foreign soil.

Take Down Your Service Flag, Mother

Georgia Tech recently lampooned the rigorous G.I. Life of soldiers and sailors on campus by publishing a poem complete with four illustrations at the bottom of page one. In case you missed it, the poem went like this:

Mother, take down your service flag.
Your son is at Georgia Tech.
Instead of fighting battles.
He's learning how to neck.
If he isn't playing football.
He's swimming in the pool.
Mother take down your service flag.
Your son is back in school.

Macon Airforce Captain Publishes Autobiography

By HAZEL SMITH

"God Is My Co-Pilot" is an autobiography of a colonel in the U. S. Army Air Corps, Colonel Robert L. Scott, Jr., of Macon, Georgia. This dynamic account of a Georgian's life is also a thrilling tale of the Yanks at war. Your heart swells with pride at the mention of your homestate in the book; your laugh wrinkles are overworked at his boyhood pranks; your mind is amused at his "girl-trouble"; and your spirit flies with him over enemy territory.

At the age of five, Colonel Scott saw a plane crash before his eyes, but this only decided his career. He wanted to be an Army flyer, but wasn't appointed to West Point. He got there the "hard way" by enlisting.

While at Randolph Field, Texas, he "had" to travel 1300 miles in an old Chevrolet to see his girl in Georgia every week-end.

After Pearl Harbor, he was told he was too old for combat duty as a fighter pilot, so he told a little white lie to be able to pilot a Flying Fortress. His actions in the Middle East have won him fame throughout the world. This account of a "Georgia Boy Making Good" is in the Rental Library of the college, where all best sellers are found.

They are giving us entirely too much work. Why, I don't have time for but six outside activities!

Think Before You Nominate

You are the members of the Freshman Class. You have the opportunity this week to nominate your friends for class officers. Perhaps you would like to know the way to nominate a girl for one of the offices; 15 girls must sign the petition. Each freshman has the privilege to sign one petition for each office.

Throughout this year, the girls whom you elect will symbolize the spirit of the whole class. Their conduct, scholarship, enthusiasm, and ability will exemplify, in a way, every one of you. Consider carefully before you elect your representatives.

Think about the girls you have met since you have been at GSCW. How do they measure up to the standards of exacting electorates? Many of your classmates are competent, but which ones will best make the grade as class officers? It is left up to you to start the petitions for these officers.

Roll 'em in!

SATISFIED WITH WAC LIFE ASSERTS '40 CGA PRESIDENT

Following are excerpts from a letter written Dr. Guy Wells recently by Frances Lott, graduate of 1941, now serving as a corporal with the WAC. Frances was president of CGA for the 1940-41 school year.

"It seems very queer now that September is here not to be going back to school, but I can't say that I'm sorry at all. I am still more than satisfied with life in the WAC. I have gained so much from my experiences that it's hard for me to understand how any girl who is eligible can resist getting into one of the women's branches of service.

"Since April when I wrote you last, I have been moved around quite a bit. I was stationed in Headquarters in Daytona Beach after I finished my basic training there; then I was transferred into recruiting. I was glad to have the chance to go to Fort Des Moines for my training for this assignment. Des Moines, of course, has so much tradition, being our first Training Center. I was in Chicago, working out in Illinois first, then in Wisconsin, with headquarters in Milwaukee. My work took me all over the state, and I feel now that I know Wisconsin as well as I know Georgia—and I simply love it. It's beautiful country, and the people were grand to us. I enjoyed my work, although at times it was discouraging. In July I had a furlough, and was at home most of the time. When I returned to Milwaukee, I was examined for Officer Candidate School, and was accepted; however, I don't know when I'll be called. The Training School is now at Fort Oglethorpe, and I have hopes of getting back there before the weather gets too cold.

"I was transferred to Camp Grant about a month ago. We have one company of WAC's stationed here, and all work at various places on the post. I am in the office of the Quartermaster Laundry. Our area is ideal—nice barracks, our own mess hall, day room, and even a beauty parlor. It's grand to be back at camp again. I have been stationed in a WAC Training Center, an Army Camp, and in civilian life as a recruiter. There are only two more things left that I want to do—go overseas and go to Officer Candidate School. All of us would give anything to go over—and I wouldn't even hesitate if I were given a choice between that and O. C. School."

WHAT'RE MEN TO JESSIES ANYWAY? BUT WHY HARP ON THE TOPIC?

By MARY J. BREWTON

Now is the time for all good men to go to the aid of their country—and they're gone, the cowards, leaving such a pitiful few to face the hordes of women who grow panicky at the prospects of a lively future lingering lovingly over a wedding

As though having their masculine friends whisked away to the South Sea Islands were not maddening enough, the present committee to keep the home fires burning is being haunted by inconsiderate on-lookers, who spend their spare hours in thinking up new ways in which to impress upon them the likelihood of their keeping house without the problem of looking after a man. Granted, the unmarried woman has always been considered an ever ready subject of laughter, isn't the trend becoming ever more noticeable?

It wasn't long after the war had broken out that a chapel speaker defined an old maid as a woman who had sailed past the cape of good hope. Since that time any public speaker, and especially one speaking to us "charming young women," seems to feel called upon to impress his listeners with the seriousness of the man shortage. As in every other case of real or rumored scarcity, the result has been a storming of the market that leads to jokes like this one told by Miss Margaret Meaders at the physical fitness day rally.

Jessie I: "I had to move five times in the show tonight."

Jessie II: "Why? Did a man get fresh?"

Jessie I: "Well, finally one did."

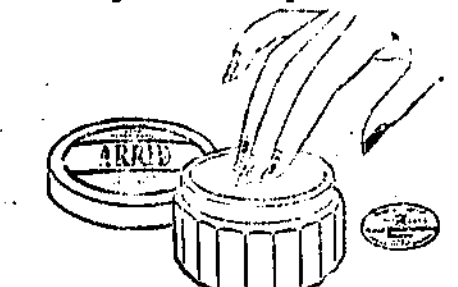

A few days later Dr. Wynn came forth with these words of wisdom:

"Congratulations, I hear you're engaged."

"Well, thank the Lord, I hope it's true!"

There is, however—possibly without a member on this campus—a faction that seems to believe one can accomplish the impossible if one tries hard enough and believes in the power of woman's ingenuity! It was they

Attention Girls Interested In 4-F's

ALBUQUERQUE, New Mex. (ACP)—It's simple matter to make a geologist happy. Just give him a set of statistics and he is quite likely to make a map out of them.

That's what Dr. Stuart A. Northrop, head of the University of New Mexico geology department, did with the statistics from General Hershey's annual Selective Service report published recently. Dr. Northrop's map shows the distribution of 4-F's throughout the nation.

General Hershey reported that 2,206,115 registrants out of a total of 26,332,900 have been placed in 4-F, which is composed of men classified as "mentally, morally, or physically unacceptable to the armed forces." The percentages for the individual states range from 52 for Wyoming and 5.3 for Utah to 11.6 for Louisiana and 12.8 for the District of Columbia. The national average is 8.4 per cent, while New Mexico's average is 9.2 per cent.

Dr. Northrop used five different colors on the maps to distinguish percentage ranges. All of the healthy states are in the north; all of the unhealthy states are in the south and southeast. This indicates some correlation between climate and 4-F's.

State BSU To Convene Nov. 5

The twentieth Annual State Baptist Student Union Convention will be held at Bessie Tift College, in Forsyth November 5-7. There will be worship programs, talks by prominent speakers, and personal testimony by students.

Among outstanding guest speakers will be Mary Nance Daniel, Southwide Baptist Student Representative; Dr. R. C. Campbell; and Dr. Malcom Knight.

BLISTERS, BUNIONS, HOT DOGS, ONIONS CHARACTERIZE HIKE

By JUNE CAROL JONES

Would it? Or would it wouldn't? Well, it just couldn't and it didn't. After all, you can't have an annual hike in the rain. The fun began right after lunch. The Hike was on. All along the way to the "Meadow" there were crazy people giving away fruit, crackers, and candy to all the "Jessies".

It was wonderful! The faculty and seniors played a super-duper softball game. The seniors came out on top, but really had to work for it.

Amusement included Red Rover, Crack-the-Whip, volley ball, 'dge, and just plain loafin'. And through it all, there was eating.

Just about the time you decided you couldn't take another bite, upper was ready, and you ate dogs, two sandwiches, two hushnits, two cakes, too much. To you found a nice comfortable (?) spot on the hill and cheered your dormitory on to victory in the skit contest.

Beeson's skit, "Robinetta Crusoe," won first prize. Terrell B with their court, and Bell, with "Skunk Hollow," tied for second place. Atkinson came in third with "A Spy in the Mint-Mince Pie."

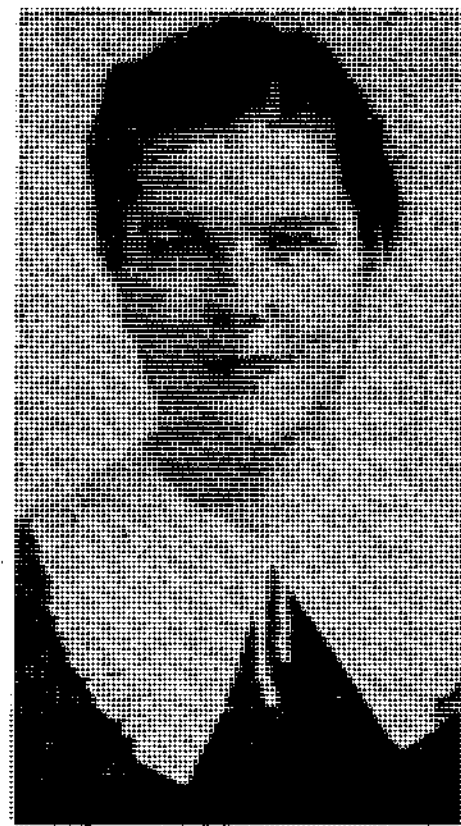

By the time the skits were over the bonfires had died down and another day was over. What did you say? Of course, I'm going next year!

Collegiate Review (By ACP)

An Ugly Man contest was sponsored last spring on the San Jose State College campus in California by Alpha Phi Omega, scout service fraternity. At a penny a vote, $150 was earned by the ballots to contribute to a war purpose.

Women students outnumber the men at the University of Texas this fall for the first time in history. The normal proportion is two men to each woman, but in this war year, registration of women is 3,291 as compared to 3,155 men.

ALLEGRO HOLDS RECEPTION

Allegro club reception for new members was held in the Music Building Wednesday night. A brief program was presented. Those taking part were Mary Hancock, and Claudia McCorkle, who sang, accompanied by Mr. Max Noah, and Jane Sparks, who gave a reading. Refreshments were served.

Wesleyan President Addresses Student Rally In Chapel Monday

"Three things are essential to real living rather than mere existing. They are to be the best person I can be; to be a co-worker with God for a better world; and to find my special calling in life," asserted Dr. N. C. McPherson, Jr., in chapel Monday. Dr. McPherson is the president of Wesleyan College.

Columbus Featured In Chapel Friday

A combined Citizenship and Columbus Day program was presented by the History Club in chapel Friday. Participating in the program were: Betty Boyd, Sophomore Representative on the Civilian Morale Committee, who introduced the program and gave the devotion; and Lucy Nell Cunningham, who spoke on Citizenship.

A skit about Columbus was introduced by Nora Lee Boatright. The cast included Mary Bowers, Grace Womble, Mary Ann Watson, Jewell Thompson, Hilda Gray, Carmen Singletary, Florie Bell, Evelyn Andrews and Betty Collins, Rachel Jones and Doris Proctor.

Dr. Harry Little will present the second in a series of discussions on scholarship in chapel this Friday.

CAMPUS PARADE

FADS AND FASHIONS: Raincoats worn during all weather preferably with the sleeves partly rolled up.

New "G.I." hair cuts prevalent among the freshmen.

Have you noticed the number of rings on that certain finger 'round campus this year? They're quite the fashion—only more so!

THINGS I LIKE ABOUT PEOPLE I LIKE:

Faye Hancock's eyes....Maudelyne Jackson's giggle....Jane Harrell's smile....Janet Fowler's voice....Flo Finney's hair....Sara Jane Wollison's friendly disposition....Everything about Miss Maxwell.

HERE 'N THERE: Camp Wheeler everywhere last week-end.

Our freshmen have started off with a bang or should I say a cadet? Jimmie's passed on review all week-end.

HAVE YOU HEARD: 'Bout the elephant club? They say it's up and coming! ety Hay-

Continuing with his speech, the speaker also stated that a broad education furnishes greater advantage than narrow specialization to a person employed in private business.

Dr. McPherson will preach at First Methodist church for the remainder of the week. The services are conducted at 7:30 o'clock every night through Friday.

The topics for the services are Tuesday, "Power Through Prayer"; Wednesday, "How Can We Know God?"; Thursday, "What Is Man?"; Friday, "Why the Church?"; Saturday, "The Church's Mission." The speaker's sermon Monday night was entitled, "Feeling Life Unafraid."

The services are open to the public and GSCW students are urged to attend as permission has been given for the students to go over for the evening meetings. The choir for the meetings is composed partially of GSCW students. Under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Long, choir director, special musical features have been arranged for each service.

Dr. McPherson preached at the morning and evening hours Sunday at the Methodist church. At these hours his subjects were: "Do We Need Religion?" and "The Spirit of Expectancy." He spoke at the GMC chapel and the Kiwanis luncheon this morning and this afternoon, respectively.

nie is president and Grace Womble fourteenth vice-president.

'Bout all the specials and telephone calls our very young freshmen are rating daily. Perhaps we upper classmen should take lessons.

Virginia H. Yates, Class Of '36, Completes WASP Training

With the sixth class of the Women's Airforce Service Pilots, Virginia Yates, graduate of 1936, received her wings in brief ceremony held October 9 in Sweetwater, Texas. After receiving her degree here she did graduate work at Emory University.

Before her enlistment in the WASP, Virginia was employed as librarian at Borinquen Field, Puerto Rico.

Principal speaker on the program was W. T. Piper, president of the Piper Aircraft Corporation, builder of the Piper "Cub." He bade the WASPS good luck and Godspeed in their tasks ahead, and commended them for their courage and vision in tackling a job heretofore reserved for men. Wings were presented by noted aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran, founder of the WASP school, and Director of Women Pilots for the Army Air Forces. Lower class members paid their respects to the graduates as they passed in review before the group.

The commencement exercises marked the culmination of six months of the most rigid training offered to women—training consisting of flight experience in all type Army trainers, instrument drill on the land-bound "Link," hours of class room instruction in navigation, theory of flight, map reading, military customs and courtesies. They also underwent daily calisthenics which would give a flaccid male aching muscles, and miles of precise, military drill.

To qualify for WASP training, the girls were required to pass the Army's toughest physical examination, the "64." They are between the ages of 21 and 34, and they must have logged a minimum of 35 hours pilot time before acceptance by the WASP.
